

Exam 1 – Note (due to Weather)

The weather forecast calls for a chance of snow on Wednesday, and a chance of snow means some classes may be cancelled.

Please watch your emails on Wednesday morning.

If all classes are held on Wednesday:

we will have the exam as scheduled

elif any classes at all are cancelled:

look for a follow-up email from the course staff with further instructions

Keep in mind though, the weather is hard to predict, and it's even harder to predict how University operations will react to it. It would be very unwise to 'count on' classes being cancelled.
